SAY IT WAS SUICIDE AND NOT MURDER

FRIENDS OF PEARL BRYAN ARE TALKING.

Miss Hollingsworth, of Indiana, Tells the Police That She Bought Drugs For Her Friend—Prisoners May Be Taken Into Kentucky to Stand Trial.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 10.—The Fort Thomas murder mystery is now nearer a solution than it has been since the headless body of Pearl Bryan was found. Lula May Hollingsworth, one of Pearl Bryan's girl friends, who has been boarding at 1 Henry street, claims to know a good deal about the tragedy. Miss Hollingsworth's knowledge of the case was brought to light through a letter written to Marshal W. E. Starr of Greencastle. The man who wrote the letter is H. F. Ratcliffe, a traveling salesman from Baltimore. He advised Marshal Starr to investigate the matter and the marshal came here. Detective Frank Wilson was detailed to assist the marshal. They called on Miss Hollingsworth. She said that on the afternoon of Jan. 28 she was at the union station and met Miss Bryan. She had visited in Greencastle and had become acquainted with Miss Bryan there. After the usual greetings were over Miss Bryan told her she was in trouble, and said that Jackson was at fault.

At this point in her story Miss Hollingsworth wavered. She said that certain drugs had been purchased here and that four drug stores were visited. She would not tell the names of the drugs, but said that whisky formed a large part of the mixture. She said the stuff purchased cost 45 cents. She admitted that the stuff was purchased by a woman. Miss Hollingsworth said she was acquainted with Jackson and Wood, but had never met Walling.

That same evening Miss Bryan took a train for Cincinnati. She saw Wood afterward. He came here the following Friday and Miss Hollingsworth was at the depot. Both of them being acquainted with Miss Bryan they talked about her. Wood was on his way to South Bend, Ind., and left shortly after his arrival here.

Miss Hollingsworth said she was positive neither Jackson nor Walling had killed Miss Bryan. She was asked:

"How do you know they did not kill her?"

"Because she died by her own hand. I have a theory. Pearl took the medicine herself. She was in Jackson's room at the time. It had a different effect from what she expected and she grew so bad that Jackson saw she was going to die. He knew that it would never do to have her die in the house, so he secured a hack, and, assisted by Walling, took her across the river. She may have died on the way or may have been dead before they got her out of the room, and their object in taking her there was to hide the crime. When near Fort Thomas they cut off her head and disposed of it to avoid identification. See if it don't come out that way."

Later Miss Hollingsworth told the police she bought for Pearl Bryan three kinds of drugs here and instructed her to buy another drug after she reached Cincinnati, but to be careful of it, as it was deadly poison and would kill her if not correctly used. Miss Hollingsworth said that Pearl Bryan then said to her: "I will go to Cincinnati and take the stuff, and if it kills me I will be near Jackson and he will have to swing for it." Miss Hollingsworth further says that Pearl was very bitter toward Jackson.

MAY GO TO KENTUCKY.

Pearl Bryan's Suspected Murderers Likely to Be Surrendered.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 10.—All day Sunday the detectives from three cities were out busily hunting the missing links in the chain of circumstances by which the story of the murder of Pearl Bryan is to be shaped into perfect evidence. All search for the head has been fruitless, though made by hundreds of volunteers along with detectives. A very material addition to the dumb witnesses of the deed was discovered, however. Detectives Grim and Wittee found the girl's hat. In it was a bloody handkerchief and a big stone to keep it from being blown away. It was found in an angle between the Fort Thomas Electric railway and the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad near their intersection southwest of Newport, Ky.

The mystery of the whereabouts of the girl Thursday night, Jan. 30, the night before the murder, remains unsolved. From her arrival here Monday, Jan. 27, up to 11 o'clock Thursday forenoon, her movements have been traced. Then comes a hiatus until 7 o'clock Friday evening, when she was last seen alive. This was at Dave Wallingford's saloon, where she and Jackson were seen, and she drank a glass of mineral water. The rest of the story has been told, barring certain gaps in it which detectives are now trying to fill.

Jackson's razor, found in Walling's trunk, was turned over to the police. Medical experts say the girl's head was cut off with some very sharp instrument—a razor or a surgeon's knife. There are stains on the razor, but they are inconspicuous.

To the correspondent of the Associated Press late in the afternoon both Walling and Jackson repeated their accusations of each other. Jackson was anxious to know the state of public sentiment in regard to them, but would say nothing more than he has already said. Meantime each day brings some new circumstantial revelation. Before another week the whole story will doubtless come out. There is scarcely a doubt that Kentucky will have jurisdiction of the case in the courts.

WILLIAM H. ENGLISH BURIED.

Services Take Place at Indianapolis Sunday Afternoon.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 10.—William H. English was buried Sunday afternoon in Crown Hill cemetery at the foot of the monument which he erected two years ago. At 8 o'clock in the morning the body was removed to the rotunda of the state capitol, where it was viewed by thousands of Indianapolis citizens who had known him so many years. Members of the Masonic order stood guard over the body while it was lying in state. The services at the funeral were simple. The Rev. John B. English of New York, a cousin of the dead man, prayed and talked briefly. The pallbearers were Gov. Matthews, Senator Turpie, Mayor Taggart, Gen. Knefler, John Coburn, John B. Wilson, John J. Curtis and John C. New.

After the funeral exercises in the hotel the Masons took charge of the body. They furnished an escort to the cemetery, and the body was placed in the grave by the order.

Mr. English's will will be looked for with much interest. It will be probated some time this week. It is said that his estate is larger than at first supposed. Those who know a good deal of his business affairs say that an inventory will show that he left at least $4,000,000. During life Mr. English was not a larger giver to charitable institutions, and many persons are wondering if he will not perpetuate his memory by endowing some institution.

DEVELOPS INTO MURDER.

Fatal Ending of a Feud Occurs in a Texas Church.

Sulphur Springs, Texas, Feb. 10.—A runner came to town Sunday afternoon from Clifton Prairie, a neighborhood fifteen miles southwest of here, stating that a difficulty occurred in the morning at a church where the people of the neighborhood had assembled for worship. The participants were the Walker and the Williams boys. Pistols were used freely and with deadly results. Charlie Walker was killed outright, two balls entering the back of the head and lodging over the eyebrow. Will, his brother, was shot under the right arm. The third brother, Efton, had his scalp grazed with two shots. It is not known how badly the Williams boys are wounded, yet it is known that at least one of them is seriously wounded and will die.

Train Blown from the Track.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 10.—A special to the Republican from Georgetown, Col., says: The regular passenger train which left Denver at 8 o'clock Sunday morning was blown from the track half a mile from the depot here at 12:10. Among those injured were:

Fred Van Sicklen of Chicago, editor of a bicycle paper; badly cut about the head.

Mrs. Van Sicklen.

E. A. Eager of the Union Manufacturing company, Toledo.

S. C. Gillard of the Dunlop Tire company, Boston.

J. P. Dazey.

The train was blown over at a point within 1,500 feet of where similar accidents have occurred several times before.

New Military Organization.

Washington, Feb. 10.—A new national semi-military organization has been formed here by General M. A. Dillon, founder of the Union Veterans' Union and Medal of Honor Legion. The organization is called the Oriental Order of Zouaves, and its principal object is to cultivate among citizens of all classes and ages a strong spirit of Americanism with a special view to rigid enforcement of the Monroe doctrine. The uniform of the order is very attractive in design, combining the national colors. The order has an elaborate ritual and installations will be conducted in public.

Spaniards Credited with a Victory.

Havana, Feb. 10.—An important battle is reported to have occurred between Colonel Segura, who commanded the Spanish forces, and Maceo, who was at the head of the insurgents. The conflict took place at San Cristobal, and the insurgents left eighty dead on the field as they retired. More than 300 of the Cubans were wounded. An aide-de-camp of Maceo was killed. The troops lost one man, a captain of the staff being shot by the insurgents. Three other officers were wounded.

Krueger Will Visit England.

London, Feb. 10.—President Krueger of the Transvaal has accepted the invitation extended to him by Colonial Secretary Chamberlain to come to England, accompanied by some members of the Transvaal executive to act as a commission. Probably a special session of the volksraad will be called to grant a formal sanction and to nominate a commission.

Boston Firemen Injured.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 10.—A disastrous fire broke out last night in the five-story brick block, 60 to 94 Pearl street, completely gutting the building. The buildings adjoining were badly scorched and the stocks of several firms are nearly ruined by water. Three firemen were injured. The loss to the buildings and stock is estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000.

SHIPS ON THE SHORE BROKEN INTO BITS

THREE LOST OFF THE MASSACHUSETTS COAST.

Vessels Scattered in Fragments Along the Beach—Crew of One is Rescued, That of Another Lost and Four Men Saved From the Third—Wild Storm Rages.

Amesbury, Mass., Feb. 10.—The terrific seas raised by the northeast gale off this coast Sunday claimed the lives of ten mariners and left the fragments of three schooners scattered along the beach. The vessels and their respective loss of life are as follows:

SCHOONER FLORIDA, three-masted, coal-laden, New York for St. John's; lost with entire crew of seven men.

SCHOONER ALLIANZA, coal-laden, New York for St. John's; lost with three of her crew.

SCHOONER GLENDON, three-masted, coal-laden; lost, but her crew of seven saved.

The gale, which was the worst that has struck this part of the coast this year, began blowing early in the morning, and in three hours' time the three schooners were driven upon the beach. The Florida went on the rocks on Salisbury beach about half a mile from shore. A terrible sea was running, but the fishermen did all they could in an attempt to launch a boat. Word was sent to the Plum Island life-saving station, four miles distant, but it was 7:30 o'clock before the apparatus arrived.

In the meantime the men had taken to the rigging, the deckhouse and boats all having been washed away. Two lines were shot over the vessel, but the men in the rigging were so numbed and the sea so high that they could not fasten them. All attempts to launch boats were of no avail. About 8:30 all view of the vessel was lost.

At 10 o'clock two bodies were washed ashore and at 10:30 three more were found. The beach was literally covered with wreckage. At 11:30 the ship's papers were found in the wreckage.

At 6:30 o'clock the schooner Allianza went high on Plum Island beach. The life-saving crew and left for Salisbury beach to help the Florida and there was no help for this vessel. About 8 o'clock wreckage began to come ashore, and it was known that the vessel had gone to pieces. Inside of ten minutes from the time the first piece of wreckage the entire crew of seven were ashore, having clung to the masts and other wreckage. It was a horrible battle with waves and three hardy sailors were dead when found. The remaining four were resuscitated after some hard work.

The Glendon went upon the rocks about three miles north of the Florida on Salisbury beach. Her crew of seven men were all rescued by the Straws Point life savers, who took them off in the breeches buoy.

Hampton, N. H., Feb. 10.—The schooner Stella, coal laden, went ashore below Rye beach last night during the gale, and is a total loss. The crew of seven men were saved.

FIFTEEN PASSENGERS INJURED.

Miraculous Escape from Death in a Railroad Collision Near Hannibal, Mo.

Hannibal, Mo., Feb. 10.—Fifteen persons were more or less seriously hurt and one cannot recover as the result of a collision at 12:40 o'clock Sunday afternoon between an east-bound Wabash stock train and a St. Louis, Keokuk and Northwestern passenger train going south.

The collision occurred near a tunnel one mile north of this city. The stock train, which had just emerged from the tunnel, struck the passenger train, crushing in the side of the ladies' coach and throwing it over an embankment, almost into the Mississippi river. There were fifteen passengers in the coach and that none was killed is almost a miracle. All were more or less bruised but only the following were hurt seriously:

H. F. Hudwell, St. Paul, Minn., arm crushed.

Miss Eva Pettit, Hannibal, Mo., forehead badly cut.

Miss M. Whittey, Quincy, Ill., hip fractured; recovery doubtful.

J. C. Cohen, stockman, Minneapolis, head cut.

Mrs. Triester and son, Hannibal, both cut about the head.

D. C. Webster, engineer Wabash train, knee injured.

FOR ROBBING A BANK.

Man Arrested at San Francisco Declares His Innocence.

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—Clarence Murphy, who was arrested about a week ago by Detective F. S. Chappelle and charged with being the person who robbed the Salem Savings bank, professes to have no fear of the consequences should he be compelled to return to Massachusetts. In fact, Murphy tells quite an interesting story in relation to recent developments in the bank robbery. He says: "The fact of the matter is that Treasurer Simon, who afterward committed suicide, is the guilty party and his friends have arranged the matter satisfactorily. The reward which was at first offered has been allowed to stand good, hence my arrest."

Murphy's attorney has gone to Sacramento in the hope of controverting the requisition papers signed by the governor.

WORK FOR CONGRESS WELL MAPPED OUT

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Non-Concurrence on the Silver Bond Bill in the House is Considered Certain—The Quay Resolution the Chief Interest in the Senate—Topics of Washington Talk.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The general debate on the free-coinage substitute for the bond bill, which was discussed day and night for four days in the house last week, will close today. It is the general expectation that a vote will be reached some time tomorrow. As to the result there is no sort of doubt. Mr. Dingley's motion to non-concur and insist on the house bill will carry by a vast majority. If an opportunity is given to concur in the last three sections of the bill, to redeem greenbacks in gold or silver, at the option of the government, to coin the seigniorage, and to retire national bank notes of a less denomination than $10, the vote may be close, but it is thought that parliamentary manipulation will prevent votes except on the main propositions.

The resolution to censure Mr. Bayard can be presented at any time during the week, but it may be withheld until the pending appropriation bills—the agricultural, army, and District of Columbia—are out of the way.

The first business of importance before the senate today is the vote on Senator Quay's resolution for the recommitment of the revenue tariff bill to the committee on finance. Senator Smith of New Jersey is announced to make a speech on the Monroe doctrine today, and Senator Blanchard on the same subject on Tuesday.

The Hansbrough resolution in regard to the distribution of seed by the Agricultural Department will, by agreement, be taken up early in the week, and it is the purpose of the committee on appropriations to get the appropriation bills up in rapid succession and out of the way as soon as possible. Four of these bills have already been reported from committee, and others will follow as speedily as the committee can turn them out after their passage by the house. There will be an effort to secure an adjournment from Thursday until Monday to permit the Pacific railroads committee to continue its hearings.

It is probable that the better part of the week will be given up to the appropriation bills. The republicans expect to get up the question of the senate reorganization toward the latter part of the week, and if they succeed this will consume considerable time.

The interest in the Quay resolution is enhanced by the knowledge that the vote will be very close. The republicans expect to poll their full vote of forty-four members for recommittal, and they are not without hope that they may get a vote or two from the democratic side. This claim is, however, vigorously contested by the democrats, who say they will have a full democratic and populist vote against this proposition. If they succeed in defeating the resolution the effect will be to place the silver substitute for the tariff bill before the senate, but it is not expected that it will be taken up immediately. Senators incline to the belief that in no event can the tariff-silver bill be disposed of within less than a month's time.

STATE'S ATTORNEY'S TALK.

Gives the Defense No Chance for a Word in the Kellar-Shanks Trial.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 10.—The attorneys for the defense in the Kellar-Shanks trial are wroth because Mr. Puett, counsel for the state, occupied all of Saturday's session in the opening argument. They are denouncing Mr. Puett for talking against time to prevent any answer to his argument for the jury to consider over Sunday. As it is the jury has had forty hours' consideration of the Rockville lawyer's argument before the other side was heard this afternoon. Now it is said all three lawyers for the defense will address the jury. There is no limit to the time of the arguments and it will be Tuesday night before the case is submitted to the jury. Local interest in the case is becoming more intense. In Parke and Fountain counties the people are wrought up as never before. Several thousand copies of daily newspapers are carried into the back townships, where ordinarily a daily newspaper is seldom seen.

Will Still Agitate for Silver.

London, Feb. 10.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says that Chancellor von Hohenlohe's declaration in the reichstag disposes of bimetallism as far as the government is concerned. But it is hardly likely that the agitation will subside. It will be used further as a means of propaganda in company with Count von Kanitz's rejected motion for a grain monopoly.

Train Wreck Takes Fire.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 10.—The derailing of a truck on a Cleveland, Canton and Southern mixed train near Dellroy, Ohio, late Sunday afternoon, threw a passenger coach down an embankment, and the car caught fire. Eight persons were seriously injured.

MAY END IN LYNCHING.

Citizens of an Illinois Town in an Ugly Mood.

Rushville, Ill., Feb. 10.—Ominous rumors that may swell into a storm and end in a lynching are heard here. Rushville is in a high state of excitement owing to two murders committed in this vicinity. One took place in the public square in Rushville at midnight and the other occurred in Frederick, a small station on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, just on the edge of this county and four miles from Beardstown.

Thomas Moore, an unoffending but dissipated local character, was killed in a street brawl in Rushville by Fred Johnson. Elbert Richmond is also implicated in the crime, which was cold-blooded and revolting. Both men are hard characters and have served jail sentences.

Excitement runs high in the little town of Frederick, where Marcus Spillers lies at the point of death with two gaping knife wounds in his body. Both wounds were inflicted by Arthur Randall with a pocket knife during a drunken quarrel. He was captured by Constable Utter about a mile from Frederick. Randall made a public statement saying he was forced into the difficulty and that he only used his knife after he had been knocked down twice. The injured man is still alive, but no hopes are entertained for his recovery.

BY A FALLING CHIMNEY.

Two Children Taken Out of Ruins Dead—Youth Severely Injured.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Two children were instantly killed and one young man seriously injured as the result of a fire which occurred in a cottage in Fort Hamilton avenue. The dead are:

MINNIE SPECHT, 9 years old.

HARRY BOTZEN, 7 years old.

The injured:

Edward Hill, 18 years old; fracture of the thigh, severe scalp wounds and contusions of the body.

The cottage was unoccupied. The fire started from an unknown cause, and the building was burned to the ground. Later in the day, while a crowd of children and others were viewing the ruins, the chimney fell without warning, burying the three mentioned.

Big Prize Fights Will Take Place.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 10.—Bob Fitzsimmons and Peter Maher will meet in the ring in spite of official action, and there is a strong probability that several of the other carnival events will take place. Dan Stuart so declares, and the preparations are going on as though no bar has been placed on the events. The only effect of the action at Washington has been to make the promoter and his associates more secretive as to their plans.

Adjutant General Mabey of Texas came to the city yesterday at the head of a company of twelve Texas rangers. Their arrival caused a stir until it became known that the object of their visit was to see that the fights did not take place on Texas soil. The fights may take place at any time, although they are not likely to be brought off for at least forty-eight hours.

Four Persons Still Missing.

Bristol, Conn., Feb. 10.—Over 3,000 people visited the scene of Thursday night's disaster Sunday and hundreds searched the river for missing bodies. The bodies of James Mack, section hand, of New Britain, and Charles Casteiani of Hartford, which were sighted Friday, were recovered. It is not definitely known how many lives were lost, as three men and a boy are still missing. It is known that six men were either drowned or killed, but it will probably be some time before the exact number is determined.

Threatens Our Trade.

Berlin, Feb. 10.—Incalculable danger to the export trade of the United States is threatened by Norway. The Agrarian element of the Storthing has combined in an effort to impose heavy duties upon foreign grain and cattle. It is said that the Agrarians constitute the majority in the Storthing, and that the contemplated law will unquestionably go into effect.

Immense Cotton Mill for the South.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 10.—A charter has been secured for the largest cotton mill in Alabama. It is to have 40,000 spindles, will cost $600,000, and will be located at Cordova. Six hundred acres of coal land with a five-foot seam has been given the company. Work on building the mill will begin April 1. A $50,000 mill will also be erected at Oxford, Ala., during the coming summer.

Fire at Davenport, Iowa.

Davenport, Iowa, Feb. 10.—Fire broke out Sunday morning in the packing house of the Tri-City Packing company and in the course of a few hours the structure was consumed. The entire plant was destroyed, with a loss on building of $75,000 and on stock $35,000; insurance $70,000.

Illinois Press Association to Meet.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—The thirty-first annual meeting of the Illinois Press association will be held in this city March 10 to 13 at the Lexington hotel.

London, Feb. 10.—The Chronicle believes that there is a good prospect of a settlement of the Venezuelan question by a compromise acceptable to the three governments concerned without loss of dignity.

CHANGED HER MIND WHEN DEATH CAME

NETTIE BOND REPENTED OF TAKING POISON.

She Had Been Leading a Wild Life in Ontonagan and Decided to End it—At the Last Moment She Begged Piteously For More Time.

Ontonagon, Feb. 10—Miss Nettie Bond, a pretty girl of eighteen, an inmate of a house of ill repute, commited suicide by taking carbolic acid today. After taking it she wanted to live but died in terrible agony. She has respectable parents in Chicago. Her prayers for a few more days of life were piteous as the end approached.

Rhinelander, Feb. 10.—Richard Gregorson, a boarder at the Hilber House, committed suicide today by taking morphine.

Farmer Dragged to Death

La Crosse, Feb. 10—A farmer named Reigart, near La Crosse, hitched his colt to a cutter, got tangled up with the lines and was dragged to death.

Manawa, Feb. 10—John Wyman was killed in the woods by a falling tree.

Whipped His Child to Death.

Hancock, Wis., Feb. 10.—In the town of Richfield, Adams county, eight miles south of this place, Lote Wilson, a well-known character, whipped his 9-month-old child with a stick of kindling wood, inflicting injuries from which it died. The father fled as soon as the child died, and his whereabouts are not known. It is charged that he nearly killed the child on another occasion, holding a revolver in his hand to keep his wife off and pounding the babe with the other.

German Trade in the Transvaal.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Within the past few years Germany has built up an important and lucrative trade with the Transvaal, notwithstanding the fact that only a few years ago she refused to enter into closer trade relations with the little African republic because her interests in that quarter of the world were so insignificant. Now, however, according to United States Consul Moore at Weimar, Germany, having acquired colonies in East Africa, is looking to that continent as the most favorable field for extending her foreign trade. Germany counts upon checking British influence there through the development of its iron trade.

To Select a New President.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 10.—The state board of agriculture meets in Grand Rapids this evening and Tuesday, and the principal business to be transacted will be the election of a president of the Agricultural college. Ever since the retirement of President Gorton in November the members of the board have been canvassing the situation and are now prepared to make a selection. It is believed that, while there are a large number of candidates for the office, the choice will lie between President Goodell of the Massachusetts Agricultural college, President McLouth of the Agricultural college of South Dakota and Frederick W. Arbury of Battle Creek, Mich.

Hamlin May Be Impeached.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 8.—The alleged interference of Assistant Secretary Hamlin of the treasury department in the trial of Capt. Healy, ex-commander of the revenue cutter Bear, will, according to a local paper, result in serious charges being filed against him at Washington in the near future. It is not unlikely that resolutions may be introduced in congress with a view to impeaching Mr. Hamlin for alleged attempt to prejudice against Captain Healy the special court of inquiry before whom he has been on trial during the past three weeks.

SPEAK NO UNTRUTH OF YOUR NEIGHBOR

REV. S. P. WILDER'S SERMON STRIKES HARD.

Dr. M. G. Hodge Comments on the Earnest Support Given Him by His People—Anniversary Celebration by the Young People of St. John's Church.

A large congregation greeted the pastor of the Congregational church yesterday morning. Rev. Mr. Wilder took for his text Ex. 20 16, "Thou Shalt Not Bear False Witness Against Thy Neighbor." From comments heard after the services, it was quite evident that the arrow of warning had struck close to the mark. It seems to be a very common sin to speak slightingly of others, yet one which because of its frequency is most often excused. All in the audience must have been reminded in the sermon that it is a sin which Christ does not so quickly forgive. The annual meeting of the Congregational church will be held Tuesday afternoon and evening. Supper will be served to all members at the church. All members of the church and others who may be interested in the work of this church are cordially invited to be present.

Making Christian Endeavor Day.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society celebrated Christian Endeavor day. Beth Miller presided. Miss Sayles told the Juniors something of the first Christian Endeavor society, which was organized fifteen years ago this February 2, in Portland, Maine.

Lamier Billings read a paper. "The First Junior Society." The first society of Christian Endeavor for the children was organized at Gilman, Iowa, in March, 1884. It began with five members. After some stories by visitors present of the big conventions and the United Society Officers, and State Officer, Margery Wilder read a paper on "The Future Outlook." In fifteen years the Christian Endeavor Society has grown from one organization to nearly 43,000; from fifty members to 3,000,000. In these fifteen years the society has encircled the world There are 10,000 Junior Societies. Last week thirty-five new societies were enrolled. There are 160 societies among the sailors.

Miss Minnie Aver led the C. E. meeting. The subject "Christ's Warning" brought to the minds of those present that a multiplicity of church services and committee meetings attended and great activity in other lines of Christian work are not necessarily Christianity, that after faithfully doing these duties, Christ might still say "depart from me I never knew you." Those present were urged to have the spirit of Christ in all their living, to make him so much a part of their lives that in work, in sorrow, or in pleasure, his presence would be felt.

Church Grows By Missions.

"The greatness of Christ's Work," was the subject of Dr. Hodge's sermon yesterday morning from the the text Isa 49:6. The work of lifting Israel and making a great nation of them was a light task as compared with the mission of Messiah. Christianity is essentially a missionary religion while Judaism is an exclusive religion. He showed the case parallel between the life of Christ and that of a missionary. The church has prospered and grown most during the periods when the missionary spirit was the strongest, and has been weakest when ritualism and doctrinal strife prevailed. In our country the anti mission Baptists have decreased, while those believing in missions have increased in numbers. At the close of the sermon a statement of the condition of the foreign mission board was made and a collection taken for its benefit

At the evening service the pastor spoke on the subject, "Of God or Not of God." He said those who were of God go where his word is spoken and are attentive so hear and obey. Here the pastor took occasion to thank his audience for their attention and to assure them of the help it had always been to him in preaching. Those who are of God are so closely in sympathy with the author of the world that they readily understand his meaning. The closer we are to God, the more fully we will grasp the spiritual idea of the gospel.

B. F. Dunwiddie was the leader of an interesting and largely attended meeting of the Christian Endeavor society in the evening.

The Ladies' Aid society will hold their annual meeting Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the church parlors.

Anniversary at St. Johns.

"Very well done," was the expression heard on all sides from those who attended the celebration of the Young People's Society at St. Johns' church yesterday. It showed what talent, energy and enterprise can accomplish. Some of these young people who took part in the exercises did not take any lessons at all from a teacher but helped themselves along and still showed the qualities of good musicians. The singers and speakers also did themselves credit, and had not the audience been requested not to ask for encores in the church there would have been many demands. St. Johns' church may well be proud of such young people.

The society is in a splendid condition. It has doubled its membership since its organization and is socially and financially quite a help to the young church. The society was invited to a supper last night at Mrs. Poenichen's and enjoyed the evening thoroughly.

MASTODONS MAKE MERRY TONIGHT

Three Hours of Laughter Promised at Myers' Grand—A Strong Programme.

The Home Mastodon Minstrels, who have been working hard, rehearsing for the last six weeks on a program that will beyond peradventure, be pleasing and enjoyable to the people, will make their appearance at the Myers Grand this evening. That they will have full houses is assured if the advance sale is any indication. The programme includes many novelties and is full of merit.

STREET CARS MADE READY TO RUN

Bids For Painting Them Are Now Being Received By Owner Blabon

Preparations are now being made by the street car company for an early opening of the road. Mr. Blabon has written from Philadelphia to get bids on the painting of all the cars, and besides they will all be braced and otherwise improved. The early opening of the road will depend entirely upon the weather.

An Expression of Gratitude.

I wish to thank the public generally for their liberal patronage during the past three months. The closing out sale has proved most gratifying. I will continue in the music trade and will handle the famous Reed piano as well as the best makes of organs. I also have the agency for the Badger bicycles and trust that I may receive a share of your trade in the future. H, F. Nott.

To Close the Course.

Leland V. Powers, the great impersonator, closes the People's Lecture Course on Wednesday evening of this week, and it goes without saying that the church will be packed. His representation from David Copperfield two years ago will never be forgotten by those who saw and heard him. Just what he will appear in has not definitely been known, but whatever it is, it will be a rare treat to hear him.

Concordia Masquerade Coming.

Don't forget the Concordia masquerade, February 18.

How Can You Beat This.

A good strictly all wool sweater for $1 in three colors, red, white and black. Last year these same goods were $1.50 but by buying two cases of them for this extremely low price, $1 just the thing for gymnasium work. Frank H. Baack.

Priestley's Black Goods

A complete line of this justly celebrated make of black dress goods now on sale. You cannot afford to buy a black dress without first seeing our line. Bort, Bailey & Co.

Jackets at $5.98

One jacket sale has been a big success and why shouldn't it be, when you can buy $20, and $25. jackets at $5.98 and all the very latest styles. A day or two more will close the line. Come Monday if you want one. Bort Bailey & Co.

we are not looking for, all we want is a small amount of money for our shoe. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

DAY OF LOG SCHOOLS BROUGHT TO MIND

EZRA GOODRICH TELLS OF 1838 METHODS.

He Calls President W. C. Whitford to Task for Some of His Statements at the Reunion of Old Setler's in Janesville Two Weeks Ago.

EDITOR GAZETTE: We notice some material errors in regard to churches and schools in Rock County, in the speeches you publish in connection with the late pioneer meeting at Janesville, which should be corrected; will you please publish the following corrections:

President W. C. Whitford of Milton College says, Mount Zion was the place where the first church in Rock County was held; which was in a private house that later was removed to Milton. This was wrong in two material particulars.

The first religious or church service in a private house, in Rock county, were held in Caleb Blodgett's kitchen at Beloit, Sunday, March 18th, 1837, which was before there was a house at Mount Zion. The first religous or church services held in a private house in the northern part of Rock county, were a year later, Sunday March 18, 1838, in the log house of S. D. Butt's, half a mile west of Milton Junction. They were conducted by two young Methodist ministers, Mr. Halstead and Mr. Pillsbury. These young men held subsequent meetings at the house of Mr. Butts, Sunday, April 15, May 27, June 17, July 8 and August 1838, up to the time a church was organized at Milton.

August 16, 1838. the Congregational church of Milton, the first church in Rock county, was organized, by the Rev. William M. Adams of Rockton, Ill,, and Rev. Daniel Smith, who was their first pastor. Ansel Dickenson of Mount Zion, was the first name on the roll of their charter members, and he subscribed $50, "the Lord prospering him, to be paid in labor, produce and cash, for the temporal support of a minister, for the current year." We always felt like saying, God help Brother Dickenson. This church was located on the Johnstown road three-quarters of a mile from Milton, on lands donated by the late E. D. Holton of Milwaukee. It was subsequently moved to the present site at Milton, which was given by Peter McEwen, and a small church was built at Mount Zion across from the residence of Ansel Dickenson, where the school house now stands. We believe the Congregational church of Milton was the third church organized in Wisconsin. President Whitford is also a little off on the question of schools, in Milton. He says the first school in Milton was in a double log house, in 1838, which is wrong as regards the year. The first school in Milton was a private school and was in a double log house of H. B. Crandall, at Milton Junction, in the summer of 1839. It was taught by Miss Olive Hall, Mrs. James Pierce of Milton, and we were one of her schoiars. The first public school in Milton was in the double frame house of Joseph Goodrich at Milton, in. the winter of 1838-40. It was taught by the late Enos C. Dickinson, a brother of Ansel Dickenson, of Harmony, and we were one of his pupils. The second public school in Milton was in the log shanty of George W. Ogden, at the foot of Lake Koshkonong, in the winter of 1840-41. It was taught by Esther Coon, now Mrs. Dr. Allen, and the Hon. L. B. Caswell, our late congressman, was one of her pupils. The third public school in Milton was in the log shanty of George T. Mackey, a half mile west of Milton Junction. It was taught by Nathan L. Coon, and opened in January. 1841, and closed in March. The Hon. S. C. Carr, late master of the Wisconsin State grange, was one of the pupils; and he there found his worthy wife, a daughter of Mr. Mackey's.

In the history of Rock county, published in 1878, we noticed and numbered one hundred errors, in the incidents touching Milton and Miltonians, which, to us, made the book seem worse than worthless, as the intrinsic value of all history is its correctness. Too much care cannot be taken in preparing statistics of our pioneers for publication; for soon there will be none left to correct material, though unintentional errors.

EZRA GOODRICH.

Numerous Hawks Being Shot.

Hawk shooting has been a popular sport of late, and especially in the residence district of the Third ward, where the predatory birds have been rather numerous. One of them killed near W. T. VanKirk's Milton avenue residence last Saturday measured three feet from tip to tip, while John Downs, of 252 Prospect avenue managed to bag two big ones near his home.

Henry Irving Liked Shore Acres.

When the society of American dramatists invited Henry Irving to witness as their guest, the best American play yet produced, he was taken to see James A. Herne's beautiful pastoral poem, "Shore Acres." Mr. Irving was so well pleased with the play that he offered to produce it at the Lyceum Theatre, London.

NO PARADE OF THE MASTODONS

Members Unable to Get Away From Work to Appear in Costume.

It was found necessary to abandon thd idea of a Home Mastodon parade, it being impossible for many of the company to be away from their work. They have been obliged to neglect their business more or less during the last six weeks on account of their rehearsals. Besides this the fact that the boys who are one of the leading features of the performance would have to be absent from school, necessitates the abandonment of the street display.

CHRIST CHURCH CADETS TO DRILL.

Exhibition at the Light Infantry Armory This Evening.

Christ Church Cadets will meet in their armory this evening at 7:10 sharp, and will march to the Light Infantry armory. An exhibition drill will be given, in which the Presbyterian cadets may take part.

Winter Garments--

All Wool Winter Garments At Just Half Price.

Can you call to mind a time when Fur Capes, Cloth Capes, Cloth Jackets and Children's Cloaks could be bought for as little money as they can today? Our busidirectory does not record any such terrible sacrifices of good, reliable, stylish garments as are now taking place in our cloak departmen. We have made many women happy by selling them one of our high quality garments at almost their own price, and are anxious to please more people. Our assortment of Capes and Jackets is yet very fair, and if not TOO critical, one can easily be suited from our collection.

Dress Goods--

We have decided to continue the sale of the three great lots of Dress Goods, at 25c, 33c and 59c, for one week more, at the end of which time all that remain unsold will go back to their real value. Don't blame us now, if you wait too long, we have given you fair warning.

ICE HARVEST NEARLY ENDED.

Very Little Remains To be Cut Except for Private Storehouses.

The People's Ice Company finished their harvest last evening. Manager Tall is well satisfied with this year's cut. "We have put in in the neighborhood of 3,500 tons this year," he remarked, "and the chances of an ice famine are not very strong.

The Ferris Ice Company have not entirely filled their houses. Mr. Ferris says that the grade of ice this year is as good if not better, than last year's crop.

Excursion Rates.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway will sell home seekers' tickets at excursion rates January 14 and 28, February 11 and March 10. Return may be made January 17, 21, 24, 28, 31; February 4, 7, 11 and 14. The above dates apply to tickets sold on January 14. Other return dates will extend to April 10. Tickets sold to points in Southern States and Arizona. Rate to be one fare plus $2 for round trip.

Homeseekers Excursions to the South.

On February 11 and March 10, 1896, the Northwestern Line will sell excursion tickets at very low rates to a large number of points in Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Texas and Arizona. For tickets and full information apply to Agents Chicago & Northwestern R'y.

Food of the Future.

When the food of the future is once in vogue the food dispensary, licensed by the government, will long since have supplanted the butcher shop and the grocery store. We'll breakfast and lunch and dine by prescription at a cost of 10 or 15 cents per day per capita. Doubtless our houses won't be heated and lighted and supplied with power from a motor at one penny a day additional, but the chemical or artificial food of the future is already a moral certainty. For does not Flammarion describe it in "Omega" and has not Berthelot, its chief apostle, been elevated from the laboratory to the foreign office of France? Given the formulae for our food, says Berthelot, the father of the artificial food idea, and why not prescribe it from the chemist's? Surely the nitrogen and carbon of the beefsteak may not be as grateful to the palate if absorbed from a capsule or masticated in a tiny tablet, but the bones and the blood, the flesh and the sinews will be just as well supplied with their essential material, their own special foods, providing always the prescription is right in proportion, and, after all, the pleasures of the table have, ages on end, been absorbing too much of the time and inclination of man and woman. When the era of chemical food comes we shall have done with symposia and supper parties, Welsh rarebits and golden bucks.—New York Herald

The Postal Staff and the Cats.

The cats are invariably treated with great kindness by the postal staff. Kittens are born in all sorts of odd corners, even occasionally under a desk or table in the sorting office. One cat has successfully reared during the present year a family of six in the registered letter department, but this, of course, is exceptional. They are generally born in the kitchens, as there are plenty of old wornout coats about which make a comfortable bed. As soon as they are old enough some one requiring a cat takes one home to the domestic hearth. There is often a keen struggle for their possession and a man will feed both mother and kitten on milk and watch them with an anxious eye, only to find in the end that he is a day too late, someone having forestalled him and quietly disappeared with the coveted pet.—Westminster Gazette.

A Notable Dramatic Rivival.

After a lapse of three centuries Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors" is again to be performed in Gray's Inn hall. The production is organized by the Elizabethan Stage society, and is the more interesting from the fact that the play will be performed much as it was performed in the days of Shakespeare.

CREMATION IN PARIS.

The Number of Incinerations Growing Steadily from Year to Year.

The advocates in this country of cremating dead bodies will be somewhat encouraged by the reports that come from Paris of the number of incinerations that took place there during the first four months of 1895. The number of incinerations that occur, either in accordance with a previous request of the person whose body is disposed of or at the instance of the representatives, increases every year with great regularity, though not rapidly. According to the statistics published by the Prefect of Police, the number of cremations that took place at the Pere Lachaise Cemetery from August, 1889, to the end of April, 1895, were as follows: 1889, 49; 1890, 121; 1891, 134; 1892, 159; 1893, 189; 1894, 216, and 1895 (four months), 75. The furnace would consequently often be idle were it not for the remains from the hospitals, which amount to from 2,000 to 2,500 bodies per annum. The apparatus employed is that of MM. Toisoul and Fradet and works by means of gas with a recuperator. Incinerations are accomplished in an hour and a quarter, and the cost of the combustible never exceeds three francs per operation. Another apparatus, invented by M. Fichet, has recently been inaugurated. The difference between the two inventions lies chiefly in the application of oxide of carbon. In the contrivance devised by M. Fichet the body is consumed by hot air alone and does not come into contact with gases. According to this method, incineration takes place a little more rapidly than in the Toisoul furnace, but the expense is greater by nearly a quarter as much.

At Fort Harrison.

September 29, 1864.—Stannard's division stormed and carried Fort Harrison, the key to the defenses of Richmond east of James river. When Stannard learned that he had been selected to lead the assault, he went to the general in chief and said: "I have come to protest in behalf of the men of my division, who have led every assault of the corps from Cold Harbor until now, and are fought down to a skeleton of a division. I have not a word to say for myself. I will go freely wherever you send me, but it is inhuman to give my men more than their share of these forlorn hopes."

"General Stannard, we must carry Fort Harrison, and I know you will do it."

Stannard's line moved forward until it reached the base of the hill crowned by the fort, all the way exposed to a plunging fire of musketry and artillery. A brief halt for breath and another dash, this time a double quick up the steep slope, and the stars and stripes were planted over one of the traverses of the fort. General Burnham was killed the instant he leaped upon the parapet. Colonel Donahue, who succeeded him, also went down. Stannard rode boldly at the head of the Third brigade, seeming to bear a charmed life that day, but three of his staff officers fell beside him. Colonel Stevens, leader of the Second brigade, was shot down at the head of his command, and when the charge ended not an officer above the rank of a lieutenant colonel remained in the whole division except General Stannard. More than fifty commissioned officers and 500 men had fallen. Other brilliant and desperate charges were made that day by different divisions to extend the conquest up and down the line. But the sacrifices were useless. Nothing remained in the possession of the Union troops excepting what Stannard clung to around Fort Harrison.

GRATIFYING RESULTS.

Interesting Experiments with the New Stomach Remedy.

Not a Patent Medicine, But a Safe Cure for All Forms of Indigestion.

The results of recent investigation, have established, beyond question, the great value of the new preparation for indigestion and stomach troubles; it is composed of the digestive acids, pepsin, bismuth, Golden Seal and similar stomachics, prepared in the form of 20 grain lozenges, pleasant to the taste, convenient to carry when traveling, harmless to the most delicate stomach, and probably the safest, most effectual cure yet discovered for indigestion, sour stomach, loss of appetite and flesh, nausea, sick headaches, palpitation of heart, and the many symptoms arising from imperfect digestion of food. They cure because they cause the food to be promptly and thoroughly digested before it has time to sour, ferment and poison the blood and nervous system.

Judge Frank Ives, of District Court of Crookston, Minn., says: For some time I have used Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with seeming great benefit, with few exceptions, I have not been so free from indigestion in twenty-five years.

Geo. W. Roosevelt, U. S. Consul to Brussels, Belgium: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, safe, pleasant to take, convenient to carry, give keen appetite, perfect digestion.

Mr. W. D. Tomlin, Mechanical Engineer, Duluth, Minn.: One box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets has done its work, and I am again gaining flesh and strength.

O. E. Ransom, Hustonville, Ky.: I was distressed and annoyed for two years with throwing up food, often two or three times a day; had no certainty of retaining a meal if I ate one. Four boxes of the tablets from my druggist, have fully cured me. I find them pleasant to take, convenient to carry.

Rev. G. D. Brown, Mondovi, Wis.: The effect of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is simply marvellous; a quite hearty dinner of broiled beef steak causes no distress since I began their use.

Over six thousand people in the state of Mich. alone in 1894 were cured of stomach troubles by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Full sized packages may be found at all druggists at 50c., or sent by mail on receipt of price from Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1670—William Congreve, poet, born.
1688—Isaac Vossius, celebrated German scholar, died.
1763—The French and Indian war ended by treaty at Paris. The French and Indian war, waged by Great Britain in the interest of her American colonies, was nearly simultaneous with the Seven Years' war in Europe. It originated over boundary disputes on the Ohio. In one of its campaigns, under Braddock, Washington gained his great hold upon the popular esteem. Decisive events were the taking of Louisburg, the fall of Ticonderoga and the capture of Quebec. The latter victory decided the war on land in America. By the terms of the treaty Canada and its dependencies were ceded to Great Britain.
1775—Montesquieu died.
1852—Samuel Prout, noted painter, died.
1876—Reverdy Johnson, statesman, died in Annapolis; born 1796.
1892—James Redpath, Irish Nationalist and author, died in New York.

Rock County Republican Convention

A Republican County Convention is hereby called at the court house, in the city of Janesville on Friday, March 13, 1896, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention, to be held in Milwaukee, March 18, 1896.

This Rock county convention will elect delegates also to the congressional district convention when called, and transact such other business as proper for this convention.

The different towns and wards of Rock county will be entitled to delegates as follows: Towns of Avon, Beloit, Bradford, Harmony, Janesville, Johnstown, La Prairie, Porter, two each; Center, Clinton, Lima, Magnolia, Plymouth, Porter, Turtle, Union, Clinton village, Fifth ward of Janesville, three each; Fulton, Newark, Spring Valley, First ward city of Beloit, Edgerton, four each; Second ward city of Beloit, Second and Fourth wards city of Janesville, five each; Evansville, Third and Fourth wards, city of Beloit, six each; First and Third wards city of Janesville, seven each; Milton, eight. By order County Republican Committee.

W. T. VANKIRK, Chairman.

Dated Janesville, Feb. 7, 1896.

HE WAITED TOO LONG.

Mr. Cleveland trys to justify the payment of $4,000,000 bonus to the Morgan syndicate last February, by saying that the syndicate helped us out at a time when forty-eight hours' delay might have produced serious results. In that crisis, of course, when only forty-eight hours separated the government from possible gold payment suspension, a sale to some syndicate or combination which could put the money up immediately was the correct thing. There was no time then to ask bids from the public. But why did the president delay the sale until within two days of the threatened crash? The gold reserve had been declining for many weeks at a time. He knew, or ought to have known, at the beginning of January, 1895, just as well as he did at the end of the first week in February, when the sale was made, that the sale would have to come. If he had called for bids early in January then as he did this year, the reserve would not have dropped to the $11,000,000 danger point touched on February 9 last year, and the gold could have been obtained on just as favorable terms as are had now.

DOESN'T STOP DRINKING.

South Carolina, which has been giving the state dispensary system a trial, is furnishing an object lesson to the advocates of this method of dealing with the liquor question that is not precisely calculated to increase their enthusiasm. The profits to the state from the sale of liquors by the state dispensaries for the eleven months ending Dec. 31, were $133,457. This includes the income from the confiscation and fines as well as from the sales. The business of the dispensaries is said to be steadily increasing and the fact seems to be one of congratulation with the dispensary commissioner, who rejoices in the bringing of money into the state treasury by this means. The profit to the state appears to be the only advantageous feature, however, as we do not learn that there is any decrease in the consumption of liquor, but rather an increase. So far as gains for temperance are concerned it is evident that the state dispensary plan, as operated in South Carolina, cannot be looked to for great results.

THE CATHODE RAY.

Chicago physicians have been experimenting with cathode photography in the last few days. All the claims of the discoverer are borne out by their reports. A bullet was photographed through a man's hand Saturday so perfectly as to make its finding possible with very little delay. The experimenters want it remembered that while the new unknown quantity photographing through solids is called a light, it is invisible to the eye, and is known only by the record of its power to penetrate flesh, wood and paper, and partially through bone and metal. As a matter of fact, scientists have discovered by accident a property of light in connection with electricity, the existence of which has never been suspected, and so the world has a new mystery to deal with by experiment, and no choice except to wait patiently for the investigation.

IT IS MOVING EASTWARD.

People will be surprised when they learn by the next census that the national center of population is moving eastward and yet that is the indication. The state census taken last year indicate that the east is growing more rapidly than the west. In the five years since 1890 Massachusetts gained in population 262,000, or 11.7 per cent. The gain of New Jersey in the same period was 313,000 or 15.7 per cent. Iowa's corresponding gain was 146,000 or 7.6 per cent. Kansas reports a loss since 1890, and Oregon's increase in the five years is not quite 8 per cent. Whether this new development in national growth is due entirely to natural causes, or in part, at least, to the blight of populism and silver inflation, is not yet clearly determined. But the states tainted with populist notions may prepare to hear something drop in the census of 1900. This looms up already in the official figures of different states as an accomplished fact.

The business man who can borrow whenever he needs money to pay his current expenses is fortunate, but the man whose business brings him money enough to make borrowing unnecessary is more fortunate. Why shouldn't the same thing be true of governments?

TWO JANESVILLE PATENTS.

Clark Manufacturing Company and E. H. Brooks Are Interested in Novel Devices.

Two patents are now pending at Washington and two Janesville concerns expect to reap a harvest as the result. The Clark Manufacturing Company are now working upon a patent wooden top, it is to be a cheap toy article and will be sold to firms throughout the country who will use it for advertising purposes.

E. H. Brooks, of the firm of Crummy & Brooks, also has another patent pending on his station indicator.

SCHOOLS HAVE GROWN EACH YEAR

Steady Increase in Attendance For Five Years Is Reported.

Figures were presented to school commissioners by Superintendent Mayne Saturday night, showing an increase in school enrollment every year for five years.

L. S. Dudley's appointment as janitor of the high school was approved.

Steps were recommended to end the discrimination against the Grant school.

DEATH ENDS EARTHLY WOES

Norma McNeil.

Norma McNeil, daughter of R. B. McNeil, died at her home, 151 South Third street last night. She had but just returned from Texas. There it was hoped she would get relief, but the hope was vain.

Miss McNeil was fifteen years of age and was an earnest worker in the Presbyterian church. Besides the father, a brother and sister are left to mourn her departure.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. All friends of the family are invited.

Funeral of Mrs. Hell.

The funeral of Mrs. Bertha Hell took place this afternoon at 1 o'clock from the house, 155 Jefferson street, and at 2 o'clock from St. Paul's German Lutheran church. Rev. C. J. Koerner officiated and the interment was in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mary Loretta Hageny.

Mary Loretta Haganey died this morning at 1 o'clock at the Hickory street home of her grandmother, aged two years and five months. The little girl had been sick two weeks and her mother died but two months ago. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mary Wulff.

The four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wulff of the town of Harmony, died of pneumonia last night. She had been sick since Friday. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Janesville Business Men's Association will be held at the association rooms, Myers block on the bridge Tuesday evening, February 11 at 7:30 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

COOPER IN EARNEST ABOUT AN OFFICE

WORKING FOR JANESVILLE'S NEW POST OFFICE.

Nearly Four Hundred Bower City Business Men Signed Resolutions Endorsing Him For His Efforts—His Response to Secretary Haselton's Communication.

It was a formidable list of names that Secretary Frank C. Haselton, of the Business Men's association, sent to Congressman H. A. Cooper. Nearly four hundred, regardless of party, signed the resolutions commending Mr. Cooper for his zeal in behalf of the Bower City. Secretary Haselton received the following answer today:

Mr. Frank Haselton, Secretary Business Men's Association, Janesville, Wis.—My Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your communication, transmitting a copy of the resolutions passed at a recent meeting of your association, expressing appreciation and approval of my efforts in behalf of the much needed public building at Janesville. While I feel that whatever is within my power to accomplish in this matter is only in line with my plain duty to my constituents, whose interests I am at all times desirous of serving, still I can not receive such kindly expressions as are contained in these resolutions without much pleasure and pride. I beg that you will extend to your association my grateful and sincere thanks for its courteous action, and assure its members that I shall leave nothing undone which I can do for the people of Janesville. Very truly yours, H. A. COOPER.

ANGELL IN SURGEON'S HANDS.

The Janesville Man Taken to Chicago For An Operation.

James L. Angell, who has been dangerously ill of late was taken to Chicago this morning by Dr. James Mills to be operated upon by Dr. Senn. Mr. Angell is a well known machinist and has been dangerously ill for some time.

STORM DID NOT DELAY TRAINS

Both the C. M. & St. P. Trains Run as Usual Today.

The snow storm of this morning had but little effect upon the trains on either the Northwestern or St. Paul roads. A few freights were late into the city, and the Chicago noon passenger was a few minutes behind time.

WILL PRAYERS SAVE POPE BOB?

Rev. V. E. Southworth Will Discuss the Subject Next Sunday.

"Why the prayers of Christian Endeavorers for the conversion of Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll have not been answered?" Rev. Victor E. Southworth has undertaken to answer this question next Sunday morning at 10:30 in All Souls church. There are some things to be said on this subject which need to be said with unmistakable plainness, so Mr. Southworth thinks.

FREIGHT BUSINESS HASN'T BEEN GOOD

LOCAL AGENTS AGREE IN THEIR STORIES.

Warm Weather Has Cut Down Coal Shipments and There Has Been a Shrinkage in Manufacturing Output—Revival is Indicated by the February Business.

The local freight business on both the Northwestern and the St. Paul roads showed but little improvement during the year '95 over that of '94 and if anything it showed a light dropping off. Both Freight Agent C. E. Ranous of the Northwestern and P. L. Hinrich of the St. Paul road think that the mild winter had something to do with the shrinkage, for the shipments of coal in this city have been few and far between compared to those in '94.

"Our business will show a slight decrease during the past year compared with '94," remarked Agent Ranous of the Northwestern.

With the opening up of factories this spring, however, large shipments will follow and already shipments of machinery are frequent. Both roads are planning for the coming year a larger business than they have had for the last two years.

DOG APPEARED MAD AND MADE A SCARE

SUNDAY SHOOTING IN THE PARK HOUSE BARN.

Milton Barney and Charles Fuller Take Refuge in a Wagon and From That Point of Vantage Wage War on a Black Brute With Frothing Lips.

They went dog hunting at the Park hotel Sunday morning.

A big black dog with froth on his jaws was the prey.

He came charging into the barn just as Milton Barney and Charles Fuller of Evansville, were unhitching a team. Grabbing a stick in his mouth he tossed it over a stall partition.

By this time both men were in a wagon and Barney was striking out fiercely with a fork handle. He hit the dog just enough to daze it as Fred Boyd came out with a revolver. The revolver was tossed to Barney and two shots stretched the dog lifeless.

GREAT LONDON SQUARES.

Most of Them Are Quaint and Are Laid Out in the Dutch Fashion.

Some of the London squares are quaint and charming, being mostly laid out in the Dutch fashion. Golden Square, near Regent street; Red Lion and Queen squares, in Bloomsbury, are capital specimens. The first, though so close to Regent street, might be a dozen miles away; there is a welcome unkemptness; the grass is rank and wild; there are old trees ranged around its border in a systematical way. The houses around are picturesque, because each is distinct. It is given over to commission agents, merchants and trade generally, yet within but a few years it was a place of genteel residence, like a usual square, and we find the late Cardinal Wiseman living in a substantial mansion here. Dickens, it will be remembered, placed Ralph Nickleby's house here, which is described on the occasion of the party to Sir Frederick and Sir Mulberry as having almost palatial apartments and the richest furniture. As we wander around, we are struck with the melancholy tone of the inclosure, yet everything seems brisk enough; but it belongs to the old world.

The square itself is very attractive and original, with a sort of Dutch or foreign air; we note the fine trees which shelter it all around in symmetrical lines, and the Roman warrior sort of statue in the center, arrayed in full armor, and representing George II. The grass and walks are laid out with a certain free-and-easy carelessness that is very acceptable, and contrasts with the trim shaven, soulless treatment of modern squares. Altogether a visit to Golden Square will interest.

Berkeley Square everyone knows. Yet it has an extraordinary sympathetic attraction from its grass and fine shading old trees. No one, we may be sure, has noted that these leafy patriarchs seem to range in two rows down the middle, like an avenue! The fact it, it was the demesne of the lawn in front of the old Berkeley house, which stood at the back of Devonshire house. The mansions round are very fine, and the iron work, railings, etc., are all admired and to be admired. There are some queer things to be told about squares; for instance, that there was a General Strode who had a mania for setting up statues in squares at his own expense. We have seen equestrian statues in Leicester Square propped up with a broomstick, with portions broken away.

A NOVELIST'S BLUNDER.

Forgot He Had Killed Off a Characte —Had to Resuscitate Him.

Paris Letter to Boston Transcript: A great master of the art of throwing off stories by daily instalments was Ponson du Terrail. When he was at the height of his vogue, he kept three running at the same time in different papers. His fertile imagination was never at a loss, but his memory frequently was. He was apt to forget today what he did with a hero or heroine yesterday. To help his memory he at first noted down briefly in copy books what happened to his men and women, but finding that often he could not read his own writing, he invented a new system. He procured little leaden figures on which he gummed the names of his characters as they were born. Supposing there were three stories running, there were three sets of figures in different drawers. When a character was settled off, the little man or woman in lead was taken away from its companions and laid aside. One day when Ponson du Terrail was all behind in his work, he set himself to his task without examining the slain. His bad memory led him into a terrible blunder. He had forgotten that he had killed Rocambole—the still famous Rocambole—in the previous feuilleton, and, to the great surprise of the reader, he made him talk again as if nothing out of the common had befallen him. This resuscitation of Rocambole is one of the most curious things in the history of the romans-feuilleton.

Oysters a la Poulette Are Delicious.

Oysters cooked a la poulette is one of the most delicious ways they may be served. To prepare them put a solid quart of oysters on the stove to boil in their own liquor. As soon as they begin to boil skim carefully and turn into a strainer, and when they have been well drained set them aside. Put half a pint of the oyster liquor into a saucepan, and when it begins to boil stir into it one heaping teaspoonful of flour, mixed with three tablespoonfuls of cold water. Boil gently five minutes longer. Put a pint of cream into a double boiler, and when it begins to boil add the thickened oyster liquor. Season with salt, pepper, a slight grating of nutmeg, and a grain cayenne. Have at hand the yelks of four eggs, well beaten, and add to them half a cupful of cold cream. Now add to the cooking mixture the oysters, a tablespoonful of butter, and finally the egg mixture. Cook for three minutes, stirring all the time. Then remove from the fire immediately and serve with a border of puff paste cakes. If you choose add a teaspoonful of lemon juice just as the oysters are taken from the fire.

"Don't Look at Me."

The German emperor has one very singular peculiarity. He cannot bear to have anyone look at him when he is saying his prayers in church, and in order that the curiosity of his subjects shall not disturb his religious devotions he has issued the following unparalleled order:

"As soon as I enter church everyone is on the qui vive to look at me, a thing which annoys me extremely. I therefore desire that all shall abstain from this curiosity when I go on Sunday to hear divine service. Those who desire to have a good view of me can do so when I take my walk in the Thier garden or drive in my carriage."

THERE WAS NO SECOND VERSE

Mr. Dash Didn't Know He Was Hearing the Lord's Prayer.

The occasion was one of the semi-musical Sunday evenings which we all know well, says the New York Herald. Mrs. Dash had attended from genuine love for the hostess, but young Mr. Herbert Dash, her son, was there only out of filial respect and an ardent desire to please his mamma.

The host was a musical devotee, but made the unfortunate and familiar mistake of over-rating his own voice and its power to please.

Young Mr. Dash had done all that the strictest adherence to good form could ask. He had listened and he had applauded until, finally, finding himself tete-a-tete on the sofa with charming Miss Blank, he yielded to natural impulses and listened to the music of her voice rather than that which came from the piano. In his own mind he had become convinced that in truth virtue is its own reward. His consciousness of a duty well done had pervaded his very soul. Satisfaction beamed from his eyes.

Miss Blank's power of repartee kept him constantly on the alert. He dearly loved a conversationalist who was witty in an honest, wholesome way. In their secluded corner he felt no remorse in enjoying the good things the gods had sent. The group about the piano was not disturbed, and the semi-confidential attitude consequent upon the subdued tones lent an additional charm. All was peaceful as a summer's dream.

Suddenly there was a lull. The voice at the piano ceased. Those near by murmured their applause. Mr. Dash looked up, paused a moment in his chat, clapped in the subdued fashion appropriate to Sunday night, and exclaimed, "Charming! Excellent! My dear sir, could you not give us the second verse?"

Instead of the expected eager response and the consequent renewal of the music, under cover of which the confidences might also be renewed, silence fell upon the entire group. Presently a voice arose:

"Herbert," said Mrs. Dash, "that was the Lord's prayer."

Want Another Trial for Coit.

Washington Court-House, O., Feb. 8.—The citizens are anxious to hasten another trial of Col. A. B. Coit, recently acquitted of manslaughter at Circleville. The charge against him at the trial just ended was he ordered the troops to fire on the mob which was trying to lynch a prisoner and that Smith Welch, a boy, was killed by the volley. The ball with which Welch was killed was of smaller caliber than the regulation rifle ball. This, the state thinks, was the weak point in its case. The other two rioters whose deaths are laid at Col. Coit's door were killed by the regulation ball and the state thinks it may win one of these cases.

Russia Is Against Italy.

Rome, Feb. 8.—A Russian authority says his government would refuse to establish a protectorate over Abyssiania. Russian sympathies, however, are all against Italy. In the absence of a declaration of war the powers interested are not obliged to observe neutrality. King Meneleck is well advised and will avoid attack. The Negus is endeavoring to prevent the Italians from bringing artillery to bear. Menelek behind his lines is preparing for his coronation at Axun. An engagement is not probable.

THE BUSTLE HAS COME BACK.

That Is the Latest Statement in the World of Fashion.

Announcement has been made that the bustle is to be revived, says the New York World. In its incipient stages it has already appeared. The obnoxious little accessory of woman's toilet which for the last five years has been in disuse is no longer to be ignored. A premonition of the renewed interest in the formidable little pads, which supplied nature's deficiencies, was given when padded hips came in. A tiny roll measuring about eight inches across and four deep is to be inserted in the dress skirt. Since the abolition of haircloth it has become necessary to substitute something which will fill the requirements and hold out the ripple skirt of a Louis Seize coat. The bustle seems to fulfill the mission admirably. If hair-cloth linings or bustles are to be the alternative for modish gowns, women, it is thought, will choose the lesser of the two evils, which is the bustle. The bustle is light in weight, it absorbs no moisture and it does not attract the dust and dirt of the sidewalk. In Europe the bustle has already assumed generous proportions. Hair cloth modeled into a triple box plait or three organ plaits are the newest examples from the manufacturing concerns. It is predicted that the evolution of the short bustle into the old-fashioned tilter, which corresponds to a hoopskirt relieved of wires across the front, will be very rapid. Then there is but a step further to insure the restoration of the hoopskirt in all its circular glory. Wire bustles, capable of being increased or decreased in size, are among the winter's novelties in this line. There is, however, some timidity evidenced by the costumers here in thrusting the bustle upon the public. A cautious movement is on foot among modistes to pave the way for its acceptance by the public. With this object in view, whalebone is being inserted in the seams of dresses at the back. This makes a graceful curve and imparts a much-desired basis for the fullness which is the distinctive feature of all up-to-date costumes. Maidens who affect the esthetic in dress will deplore the revival of the bustle. Less obnoxious styles carry disfavor with these esthetes, and their objection to its adoption may not count. Small reeds in the back of dresses, a few inches below the waist line, rather impart a stylish air and are already being used.

A Girl's College Training.

It is constantly impressed upon a boy during these four years that he must find out what he is good for; he must either be fit or ready to be fitted to do something which will have a definite market value. But the destiny of the girl who goes to college is carefully concealed from her. During these four years who says to her: If you marry you will need biology, the science of life and reproduction; hygiene, the wisdom to attain and preserve health; sociology, the laws which govern individuals in society; chemistry, physics, economics, all the sciences which may help to solve the problems which the housewife must meet; literature and language, the vehicles of poetry and inspiration?

No one has the courage to suggest any of these as suitable—nay, absolutely essential—to the successful fulfillment of her probable vocation in life. Young women are turned blindly adrift among a mass of subjects, with no guide but a perverted instinct and with many a hindrance in the shape of tradition and ridicule.

In all ages men have united in adoration of the dignity of domesticity and the sacredness of motherhood, yet any loving, foolish, untrained, inefficient creature has been held to be good enough for a wife and mother. We do not expect a man to become a distinguished engineer or a professor of Latin by studying a little literature, history, music and language; yet we expect a woman to undertake an occupation for which, in this age, at least, a certain definite kind of training is necessary, without anything more applicable than "general culture."—Popular Science Monthly.

Tried to Bribe the Court.

A down-east lawyer had a tough case on hand at a recent term of a court, and before it came on he laid his forefinger to his nose and evolved an idea. The presiding judge loved a good cigar, and the lawyer's happy thought was to propitiate him and make him friendly to his case by treating him to the best the market afforded. The disciple of Blackstone was not in the habit of smoking good cigars himself, so when he bought a 25-center for the court he bought a cheroot for his own use. Armed with these he sauntered into the judge's room and after a little chat passed out a cigar, asking the judge if he smoked. The court accepted gracefully, but before many whiffs were drawn the horrified lawyer discovered that he had given the judge the cheroot and was puffing the Havana himself. The judge politely tried to look pleased as the smoking proceeded, but the lawyer has since made no attempts to bribe the court.

The Unspeakable Turk.

Human life is, in some quarters, very cheap. Cruel tyrants have, for an idea, marshaled their hosts to slaughter and to be slaughtered. The unspeakable Turk of today is the most conspicuous example of one who looks upon murder as one who lives it in his heart. He is breaking this holy law from day to day and the civilized world is permitting him to do it. The nations are playing their political game, while the Armenian Christians are slaughtered.—Dr. James McLeod, Presbyterian, Scranton, Pa.
